The 14th Annual International Students’ Internet-conference
LANGUAGE, EDUCATION, CULTURE: Integrative perspectives in EFL/ESP context

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

The 14th Annual International Students’ Internet-conference
LANGUAGE, EDUCATION, CULTURE: Integrative perspectives in EFL/ESP context
will be held Wednesday through Thursday March 17-18, 2016. Hosted by Vinnytsia State Pedagogical University named after M. Kotsyubynskiy the Internet-conference invites full-time and part-time students, postgraduate students and young scientists enrolled in EFL/ESP programs and related fields to submit proposals for presentation and discussion.

The suggested topics for discussion are:
1. Modern methods of EFL teaching at different levels.
2. Problems of teaching and learning literature of English-speaking countries.
5. Psycholinguistic aspects of Interactive FL teaching.
6. Distance learning.

To register, please, submit your brief outline report as well as relevant personal data (as stated in the enclosed registration form) by March 13, 2016 to: iimvspu@gmail.com

The Internet-conference reports will be published on condition that they are relevant to the suggested topics and meet the following requirements: one-three pages, size 14, Times New Roman, 1,5 spaced.

The Internet-conference collected papers will be presented on the official site of Vinnytsia State Pedagogical University named after M. Kotsyubynskiy.

To participate in discussions, give reviews and submit proposals on the range of issues raised at the conference join the E-group by sending an enquiry about and getting an access to Annual Internet Conference 2016 from your personal Google+ account on March 17-18, 2016.

For further information contact: Olena Zarichna at: elena-ivan1@yandex.ru
The 14th Annual International Students’ Internet-conference
LANGUAGE, EDUCATION, CULTURE:
Integrative perspectives in EFL/ESP context

March 17-18, 2016

REGISTRATION FORM

Name, patronymic and surname of the participant ______________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________________
The educational establishment_____________________________________________________
Its post address ___________________________________________________________________
Faculty/chair _____________________________________________________________________
Group, Year of study, (for students) _________________________________________________
Specialty/position (for teachers) ___________________________________________________
E-mail address _________________________________________________________________
The session you would like to participate in __________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________________
The title of your report-to-be ______________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________________